Why Send your Employees to a Zabbix Summit?

No matter what your business involves, monitoring is a must - it's the key to high performance, cost savings, and better user experiences. If your organization relies on Zabbix for infrastructure monitoring, grabbing one of your team members a pass to Zabbix Summit 2025 will do more than just pay for itself – it could end up being the best investment you make all year. Here's why.

Deep technical insights that you won't find elsewhere.

A Zabbix Summit is a lot more than just a convention or a conference. It's a continuous flow of real-world use cases, advanced configuration tips, and live demos led by Zabbix experts and community veterans with decades of experience.
Zabbix Summit 2025 attendees can expect the following:

- Presentations from Zabbix experts on topics as diverse as turning playbooks into automated action plans, streaming metrics for multiple tenants without chaos, syncing systems painlessly, maintaining control over massive amounts of Zabbix data, and detecting and responding to security threats before they escalate.
- Case studies from real Zabbix users about how AI turns sensor data into insights, how enterprises transform their monitoring, how SAP environments and multisite clusters are kept in check, and how migration projects can supercharge operations. Attendees will also see how discovery, correlation, and AI work together for smart monitoring in action.

- Inside information that will show how to spot the blind spots in large-scale networks (and fix them), how to keep tabs on Zabbix itself (yes, even monitoring needs monitoring), how to take full control of tag management, and how to make the most of Zabbix Proxy for scaling things up without breaking a sweat.
- Immersive workshops where your team can put the theory they learn during presentations into practice. They'll be able to check out the latest features and use cases in action, while performing a variety of real-world tasks under the guidance of workshop hosts and their assistants – many of whom are also featured presenters at this year's Summit! A comprehensive list of available workshops is available on the Summit agenda.
- Zabbix Certified Training sessions and exams that will give your employees the opportunity to prove their skills as Zabbix specialists or professionals on the spot in Riga. The entire training schedule for Zabbix Summit 2025 can be found here.

While your employees probably won't come back from the Summit well-rested (it's a lot of knowledge packed into three days), they will come back with actionable knowledge that can immediately improve your monitoring and observability, whether that involves improving performance, automating processes, or expanding scalability.

Access to the Zabbix team and management.

There's nothing like a Zabbix Summit when it comes to bringing the developers and decision-makers behind Zabbix together under one roof. Whether your staff has a burning technical question, feedback on a feature request, or some thoughts about what they'd love to see in upcoming Zabbix releases, there's no substitute for one-on-one face time. They'll be free to ask questions of any Summit speaker during our extensive Q&A sessions, and if that doesn't give them what they need they can always visit the Zabbix booth with developers, support engineers, and other experts and speak their piece there.

A unique slate of networking and community events.

Speaking of which, a Zabbix Summit gathers a truly global community of Zabbix users who represent everything from Fortune 500 companies to newly-minted startups. Summit attendees get a chance to share their experiences, swap solutions and ideas, and build relationships that can lead to future partnerships – a Zabbix summit attracts top tech talent from a wide variety of industries, and many interesting collaborations and use cases were born at Summit networking events!

Early access to the Zabbix roadmap and new features.

There are always a number of speaking slots reserved for top Zabbix management at a Summit (including a keynote by our CEO and Founder Alexei Vladishev), and these have traditionally served as "info drops" for details about upcoming releases, new features, or even entirely new products. Giving your people a sneak peek at what's coming next for Zabbix is bound to help your organization plan ahead, align with upcoming changes, and stay ahead of the curve.

A display of trust and confidence.

Sending employees to an event as high-profile as Zabbix Summit 2025 can boost morale, sharpen skills, and help your team feel more invested in their work (and consequently your success). An employee who returns from a Zabbix Summit acts as a true "force multiplier" – they can share their takeaways with your entire organization and bring fresh, unique perspectives, boosting the value of their ticket in the process and helping you save time and money in your own projects.

In conclusion

Zabbix is famously easy to get started with, but mastering it takes real knowledge. Zabbix Summit 2025 is a one-of-a-kind opportunity to build your organization's expertise, work smarter, and connect with a global monitoring community — all of which will pay long-term dividends in performance and uptime. Don't consider Zabbix Summit 2025 as a conference, but rather as an investment in a better, more reliable infrastructure – the value proposition will become abundantly clear!
